What is the 4-H LIFE Program?

- A nationally recognized family strengthening program that addresses the needs of children of incarcerated parents and their family members in a non-stigmatizing way.
  - Started at Potosi in late 1999
  - Developed in response to caregiver’s request for more meaningful parent-child interaction
  - Developed prior to national interest in offender reentry; expanded to female correctional centers

- Based on positive youth development research:
  - Belonging
  - Independence
  - Mastery
  - Generosity
Current 4-H LIFE Partnerships

- Missouri Department of Corrections
- University of Missouri Extension
- Missouri Children’s Trust Fund
- National 4-H Council and OJJDP
- Missouri 4-H Center for Youth Development
- USDA Children, Youth and Families at Risk (CYFAR) Initiative
From 2000 to 2009, the MU Extension 4-H LIFE Program faculty, staff and volunteers provided over 1,600 hours of research-based education to qualified, incarcerated parents and their families.
Many 4-H LIFE youth participants attend local, regional and state 4-H educational events:

- County 4-H Clubs
- 4-H Camp/Counselor Training
- 4-H Aerospace Camp
- MU Camp Food and Fitness

Caregivers access University of Missouri Extension information and programs (e.g., nutrition classes) through one of 112 county Extension offices throughout Missouri.
The MU Extension 4-H LIFE Program faculty, staff and volunteers have facilitated over 2,200 enhanced, in-person parent child visits.
Criteria for Offenders

- Violation free behavior for at least 90 days
- Offenders without sex offense charges, child abuse or child neglect charges.
- Eligible offenders can be a parent, stepparent, grandparent, aunt or uncle – anyone who has regular, in-person visits from at least one approved family member between the 4-H age range of 5-18.
- Active involvement in 4-H LIFE Program parenting classes and planning meetings.
Three (3) integrated components:

- Parenting class
- Planning/leadership
- 4-H family club meeting
1. Parenting Class

Helps qualified offenders:

• Become more responsible for understanding and meeting their child’s developmental needs.

• Communicate and connect with their children as well as the caregivers raising the children.

• Become a positive role model and mentor during 4-H family club meetings.
Provides qualified offenders a chance to:

• Apply parenting concepts when planning the 4-H Family Club Meeting activities.

• Learn how to work as a group in setting group goals.

• Accept leadership responsibilities.

• Reflect individually and collectively on the success and challenges of 4-H family club meeting activities.
The structured, family-oriented atmosphere and age appropriate 4-H activities lead to:

• Less stress before, during and after 4-H visits.

• More positive interaction between all family members.

• Closer child-parents bonds.
• MU Extension 4-H staff provide agendas
• Youth officers lead the 4-H business meeting
• Offender parents co-lead 4-H educational activities such as:
  • Healthy food choices
  • Cake Decorating
  • Safety
  • Gardening

“I pledge my head to clearer thinking...”
The original, Potosi 4-H LIFE Program evaluation included:

- program attendance records
- a focus group with the fathers
- a life skills survey conducted three times with participating youth

Evaluation results show that 4-H LIFE Program participants and staff reported the fathers gained leadership, empathy, and self-control. See: http://extension.missouri.edu/4hlife
Current Evaluation

Current program sites are part of a 2 year multi-method qualitative study

- Conducted under the direction of Dr. Joyce Arditti, Virginia Tech.
- Offender and caregiver program/treatment and random selection control groups.
- 100 interviews done so far, including corrections and 4-H LIFE program staff.
- Measures parenting stress, co-parenting, social support and prison visit satisfaction.
- Data collection ends Sept. 2010; findings to be released nationally in mid-2011.
Preliminary Findings

• Approximately 63 percent of 4-H LIFE participants (offenders and caregivers) felt that lack of physical contact was a problem during traditional visits; only 11 percent report lack of physical contact was a problem during 4-H Family Club meetings.

• Caregivers in the 4-H LIFE Program report more frequent and positive co-parenting behaviors.

• Approximately 80 percent of caregiver participants report that the 4-H Family Club meeting helps the youth learn and demonstrate healthy lifestyle choices.

• Approximately 85 percent of caregivers report their children are engaged in 3 out of 4 essential skills (i.e., belonging, independence and mastery) some or most of the time during 4-H Family Club meetings.
Anticipated Overall Benefits of the 4-H LIFE Family Study:
The University of Missouri Extension, the Missouri Department of Corrections and Missouri communities will benefit from the 4-H LIFE Family Study as it will provide scientific evidence about prison family relationships, contact, parenting competence, co-parenting and prison visits. These results can help guide and improve offender family and community reintegration efforts.

Public Value:
By supporting MU Extension’s 4-H LIFE Program, we anticipate children of offenders will make healthier lifestyle choices and avoid contact with the juvenile and adult criminal justice systems. The projected tax payer savings is $56,885* per child. The program served 304 youth and 230 of their adult family members (i.e., incarcerated parent, caregivers) in 2008 for a projected savings of $17,293,040. This includes $16,690 in juvenile delinquency costs & $40,195 adult crime costs (Small and O’Connor, 2007).
Where We Are Today

• Potosi’s 4-H LIFE Program is sustained through volunteer time and funds from the PCC 4-H LIFE Program Offender organization. Together, they have raised and donated funding for 4-H youth club and camp fees, program supplies and charitable donations to non-profit organizations such as St Jude’s Hospital, the Washington County Adopt a Family Program, St Louis City 4-H Afterschool, etc.

• In 2006, CYFAR began 5 year funding for 2 female locations: Chillicothe & Vandalia

• 4-H LIFE Program Staff Guide developed (online)

• Community Awareness Workshops (2010-11)

• Children’s Trust Fund starting 2 additional male sites

• State and national expansion underway with Natl. 4-H Council and OJJDP Mentoring grant

• Dr Arditti, Research Presenter at National CYFAR Conference, May 2010

• Symposium Presentation, National Council on Family Relations Conference, Nov. 2010
