

The gardening tool you shouldn't be without

From Seed to Harvest and Beyond: Garden Journal and Calendar

A journal might not be the first tool that comes to mind when thinking about gardening, but it's a great way to organize and keep track of your observations, successes, failures and ideas as the gardening season progresses. Many gardeners believe the keys to successful gardening are to get your plans on paper first and to keep records. This journal gives you a way to do this — from seed to harvest.

The journal includes:

- + graphs for sketching and planning garden and landscape areas
- + monthly tips and reminders
- + blank pages to note successes and ideas for improvements
- + forms to record seed and plant buying information, soil composition, pest control methods, crop rotation and more;
- + resources for year-round guidance
- + a garden glossary
