Missouri 4-H

Recognition Form

Level 2 (Ages 11-13)

Personal Goals

Reflect on project, leadership, and citizenship experiences in 4-H. Youth develop the ability to accurately describe project achievements, knowledge, skills learned, and decision making experiences. In addition, youth develop proficiency in the seven skill sets (understanding self, communicating, getting along with others, learning to learn, making decisions, managing resources and working with others).

Organizational Goal

Written testimonials concerning projects, learning experiences, leadership experiences, and citizenship help market the 4-H program to potential audiences and stakeholders

Program Evaluation Goal

Reflection on all experiences provides evidence of the positive impact 4-H has on youths.

Section B – Leadership Experiences (100 points total)

B1. Leadership experience – (25 points) List 4-H offices you have held, committees you have served on, and activities where you have helped. Tell what you learned.

Experience	What did you learn

B2. Leadership Learning experiences (1 page maximum) (75 points)

You will use leadership skills in many ways the rest of your life. On a separate sheet of paper describe how you are using the following three leadership skills to help others as well as yourself: Communicating, Getting Along with others and Learning to Learn. Brief descriptions of these areas are included in the instruction section of this application.

Communicating

Most people think that speaking before groups is an important leadership role. You have learned already that many other communication skills are just as important in leading groups.

The best leaders are excellent listeners, careful observers of nonverbal communication, skilled in conversing informally in small groups and on the phone, able to obtain feedback from others, and skilled at writing. 4-H activities encourage communication. Describe your skills. Give specific examples, such as how listening changed your actions, or how nonverbal feedback encouraged you to ask more questions.

Getting Along with Others

Understanding and appreciating the people you meet is vital to success in leading groups. As a leader, you will need to gain the trust and support of the individuals in the group. Skills in meeting, accepting, caring, and trusting are basic to building teamwork. Your work in 4-H has provided skills to help groups get along. Describe how you have used your skills to build a team attitude.

Learning to Learn

Helping people make changes is what leadership is all about. Learning to learn is learning how to make desired changes. You make changes in attitude in the way you do things, and in the information you know. The things you know are applied in new and creative ways.

What are some ways you learn new things? Do you learn better in groups or by yourself? Can you learn with games and songs? Do you see that youth of differing ages have differing abilities to learn?

Section C. Citizenship and Community Service (75 points Total)

C1. Citizenship/Community Service Activities 15 points

List events, activities, and experiences related to citizenship and community service.

 Level – Club, County, Region, State

 Involvement – Participant (1 point), Had the idea, (2 points), Arranged the event (3 points)

Year	Activity	Level	Involvement

C2. Citizenship (1/2 page maximum) 30 points

Citizenship is an important part of the 4-H program. It can be described as who or what we are, as what we believe, or as what we do. On a separate sheet of paper, write a narrative of your citizenship experiences. (Include both your 4-H and outside 4-H experience)

Identify ways you have participated in citizenship experiences and describe what you learned about your community, school or country, as well as about yourself, in the process. Experiences may include, but are not limited to, volunteering on Election Day, participation on local extension councils, attending local government days, job shadowing a government official, participating in Citizenship Youth Forum, writing a letter to the editor of the local newspaper, voting and voicing your opinion at club meetings or learning about other cultures.

C3. Community Service (1/2 page maximum) 30 points

Community service is what you do as an individual or with others to help the community. On a separate sheet of paper, write a narrative of your community service experiences. (Include both your 4-H and outside 4-H experience). Identify community service projects and activities in which you have been involved, describe your level of involvement and what you learned through the experience.

Section D. 4-H Projects & Activities (150 points Total)
