

What is a Charrette?

The Charrette process combines a creative, intense work session with public workshops and open houses at critical decision-making points. It is a collaborative planning process that harnesses the talents and energies of all interested parties to create and support a feasible plan that represents the public's collective input on design. Public feedback loops provide the charrette team with the information necessary to create a feasible plan. Just as importantly, they allow the public to become co-authors of the plan.

If you are unable to attend but would like to contribute to offset the cost, please contact the University of Missouri Extension at 660-882-5661 or visit us on the web at: <http://extension.missouri.edu/cooper/>.

Checks may be made payable to:

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION OPPORTUNITIES

Because the Charrette is a public forum planning process, we welcome your participation in designing the ERIC building.

The goal of the Charrette is to produce a feasible plan that benefits from the support of all public input throughout the process.

Everyone is encouraged to participate in this exciting charrette process. Below are the specific times set aside when you can view and comment on the evolving plan.
