Start every day the whole grain way.

Help your children get their day off to a healthy start. Serve whole-grain versions of cereal, bread, tortillas or pancakes at breakfast. Whole grains give your children B vitamins, minerals and fiber to help them feel full longer so they stay alert to concentrate at school.

Go for whole grains

There are many choices available in the grocery store to help you choose whole grains for you and your family.

- 100 percent whole-wheat tortillas: These are an easy choice to hold the ingredients in your wraps or tortilla dishes.

- 100 percent whole-wheat couscous: Couscous is a grain that cooks in only a few minutes. Find 100 percent whole-wheat couscous in the bulk food section of the grocery store.

- 100 percent whole-wheat crackers: Are cheese and crackers or peanut butter and crackers your family’s go-to snack? Choose 100 percent whole-wheat crackers.

It’s on the label

Look for these words on the ingredient list. They mean whole grain. Choose a product that has any of these words first on the ingredient label.

- 100 percent whole wheat or whole wheat
- Whole-grain corn
- Whole oats
- Oatmeal or rolled oats
- Brown rice
- Buckwheat
- Bulgur
- Whole-grain barley

A brown color doesn’t mean it’s a whole-grain bread. The brown color may be from added molasses or caramel coloring.

What about multigrain?

What about when you see the words “multigrain,” “stone-ground,” “100 percent wheat,” “cracked wheat,” “seven-grain” on labels? These are usually not whole-grain products. And a brown color doesn’t mean it’s a whole-grain bread. The brown color may be from added molasses or caramel coloring.
What can you do to help your child choose whole grains?

Children love to be involved in choosing food. Make this recipe together.

Kids in the Kitchen

Your child gets to practice skills like:
• grating cheese
• assembling ingredients

Recipe

Tortilla rollups
(Makes 1 serving)

Ingredients:
100 percent whole-wheat tortillas
1 can of low-fat or fat-free refried beans
Grated low-fat cheese
Mild salsa

Directions:
1. Wash hands and surfaces.
2. Put tortilla on plate. Layer each ingredient on top of tortilla.
   Roll up. Enjoy!
3. Refrigerate leftovers immediately.

Added sugar on the label

Check the label to make sure there are not a lot of added sugars in the grain foods you choose. If you see words like these on the ingredients label as one of the first three ingredients or listed more than one time, choose another product: sucrose, high-fructose corn syrup, honey, malt syrup, maple syrup, molasses, raw sugar.
