Missouri 4-H
Meat & Dairy Goat Camp 2015

SATURDAY, April 25

Registration 8:00 am
Programs begin 8:30 am

8:30 am Dairy Goat 101—Great for getting started in dairy goat production
8:30 am Meat Goat 101—great for getting started raising meat goats
9:15am & 10:15am Bio Security—how to keep diseases off of your farm
9:15am & 10:15am Goat Diseases—what are the signs and symptoms of the most common diseases (CAE, CL, foot rot, club lamb fungus, etc) you may encounter with your goats

There will be a short break between 9:15 & 10:15 start times, the workshops will only hold 23 each so they will be repeated twice.

11:15am–12pm Lunch will be provided.
12pm to 2pm Hands on Workshops from for both Meat and Dairy goat participants on fitting and showing.

The dairy goat addition has been developed as a result of requests on evaluations from previous years’ camps. Please mark your registration form according to the session you would like to attend. We are limiting our registration to the first 46 participants who mail in registration including payment.

This year’s camp is being held in Greenfield, MO at the Greenfield High School Ag department. Sarah Abbott Lohan is our host for this event. Due to the reduction in size of our venue this year we will try to keep the numbers even between meat and dairy goat participants. The registration fee of $15 per person, this includes snacks, lunch and handouts. Please send in your registration as soon as possible. An email of confirmation will be sent the week of this event.

OBJECTIVES:

- To increase the knowledge of care and management of meat and dairy goats.
- To increase the awareness and importance of the small ruminant industry.
- To develop proper showmanship skills.
