CODE OF CONDUCT: 4-H Youth Guidelines

All youth who participate in Missouri 4-H Youth Development programs, planned, conducted, and supervised by University of Missouri Extension, are responsible for their own conduct. Specifically, 4-H youth are expected to abide by the following behavior guidelines:

1. Be courteous and respect others.

Camper Acceptance:

The Missouri 4-H program and the area camping program are open to all youth that meet age and eligibility guidelines. It is important that the camp program is conducted in such a way that provides the safest possible environment for all. Every attempt is made to work with the parents or guardians of potential campers with special health conditions or with behavioral or emotional management requirements, to work out ways to involve the camper where possible. Potential camp applicants that have medical or behavioral conditions that are beyond the training, available equipment or time constraints of the camp staff may not be accepted in the camp program, or they may be accepted with restrictions.

We, the youth and the parent/guardian, have read and discussed the Event Acceptance and Code of Conduct above and accept the responsibility for following the 4-H Youth Behavior Guidelines. We further understand that failure to do so may result in disciplinary action and forfeiture of participation privileges .
