2017 Southeast Regional Grazing School

Management Intensive Grazing

The regional Grazing Schools are educational programs taught by the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) and University of Missouri Extension (UE). The programs are intended to educate producers and agency personnel in the art and science of grazing management, transfer new technology in grassland management to producers and agency personnel and to qualify producers for the State DSP -3 cost-share program. There are 9 grazing school regions across the state. For further information please contact the regional coordinators.
