Now more than ever, it is important for employees to understand their rights as workers. The St. Louis County Extension office is pleased to offer a Statutory Leave Rights Program featuring Janine Martin with Hammond and Shinnars.

The program will address leave rights under the FMLA and ADA. It will include an interactive discussion of the intersection of those rights with workers compensation laws, as well as the exercise of those statutory leave rights in the unionized work environment. In addition to discussing employee leave rights, the program will also discuss employee responsibilities in connection with the exercise of those rights.

Lunch is at noon. The program will follow. The fee is included with the cost.
