

Teyuna Darris is a St. Louis County native, and a longtime Ferguson resident. In 2018, she was a graduate of the first cohort of the University of Missouri Extension's Neighborhood Leadership Fellows (NLF), and is a 2018 graduate of the Neighborhood Leadership Academy.

Teyuna serves as a Trustee of the Ferguson Municipal Public Library. She also serves as a member of the St. Louis Food Equity Advisory Board— a grassroots collaboration of St. Louis County and St. Louis City residents to increase healthy food access throughout the St. Louis Promise Zone.

Teyuna advocates for many community causes— including those related to education, youth, civic engagement and voter education, and her career in public service includes work in the Federal service, and as an educator in County public schools.

Teyuna holds the Bachelor of Arts in Communication from the University of Missouri – St. Louis, and the Master of Arts in Communications Management from Webster University.

She is committed to connecting people and organizations in order to create whole communities, and in her freetime, Teyuna enjoys poetry, dancing and music, in addition to a plethora of other things.
