Building Strong Families
Reinforce

Key Points

- Praise a child for the specific behavior you want to see. (For example: "I'm proud of you for picking up all of those toys and putting them in the toy box!")

- Hug your child. (In addition to boosting self-esteem, a hug is actually good for the health of both parent and child.)

- Provide tangible rewards. (For example, rewards can be playing a game or watching a favorite video.)

- Say those magic words: "I love you." (Children like to hear that often.)

If there are any statements you would like to remember from the discussion, please write them down to use later.