NLRB Update: Times are Ch-ch-ch-ch-chang(ing)

Another year has come and gone. Many changes have occurred at the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) and now is the time to review the implication of those changes. This month we are happy to announce that Mary Taves, Officer-in-Charge, NLRB; Overland Park, KS, and Attorney, Arbitrator, and Mediator Peggy McNeive, (former FMCS Commissioner; Kansas City, MO) will serve as panelists. The panel will highlight the most important changes passed by the NLRB in 2019 and how these changes impact both labor and management. Please join us on February 12th to learn more about the new policies and to ask questions about how these policies shape the interactions between labor and management.
